Theodore,
I must say that it has been rather fun associating my self with your company - you won't need much good luck - you won't need any.

John Naisbitt

Theodie,
I should have known it would be fun to know you. I'll see you in Key West for the summer. I hope it's a good one for you. Thanks for everything. Hope we can always be friends. I hope Key West is a Block 'C' again next year. It's the only way either of us will achieve anything.

Your friend always
Dave Johnston

Theodie
You're really a great human being + friend. I hope we can always be friends. I hope Key West can work together next year. It's the only way either of us will achieve anything.

camarillo lost a great friend, and the world of education lost a dedicated servant when james ackerman, principal of adolfo camarillo high school for the past eight years and the first principal of adolfo camarillo high, died last spring.

mr. ackerman's whole life was dedicated to teaching and administration in the field of secondary education. he was a firm believer in the value of education, having once said that education is "one of the most important aspects of american life, and is its most characteristic aspect."

perhaps the greatest memorial to principal ackerman is adolfo camarillo high school itself, which he guided from its beginning as a small school with a few buildings and only 300 enrollment to the large campus that we know today. present enrollment is well over 2000, with about 90 full-time teachers and a dozen counselors and other specialized personnel.

but adolfo camarillo high's greatest achievement is in its outstanding scholastic record. though one of the youngest high schools in the county, it ranks second to none in scholarship. much of the credit for this is due to the outstanding guidance provided by principal ackerman. he set the standards high and then endowed his students with the spirit to meet those goals.

as a further tribute to our late principal, he will be remembered as one who was always admired and respected by students, teachers, parents, and residents of the community.

as a teacher and administrator, he set an example for adolfo camarillo high school teachers and educators all over the country to follow. his contribution to education in ventura county and america is truly significant.

district board of trustees

true civic leaders are those who give willingly of their valuable time to serve on the board of trustees. they have the difficult task of supervising the education received by thousands of men and women of this area. another year, another step; neither of which could have been so successful without the support of these leaders.

every scorpion acknowledges his gratitude to these fine citizens whose interest is providing the best possible schools for all students. with the guidance of dr. crosby, the district administration, and the board, we scorpions can proudly say that we belong to one of the finest districts in the state.

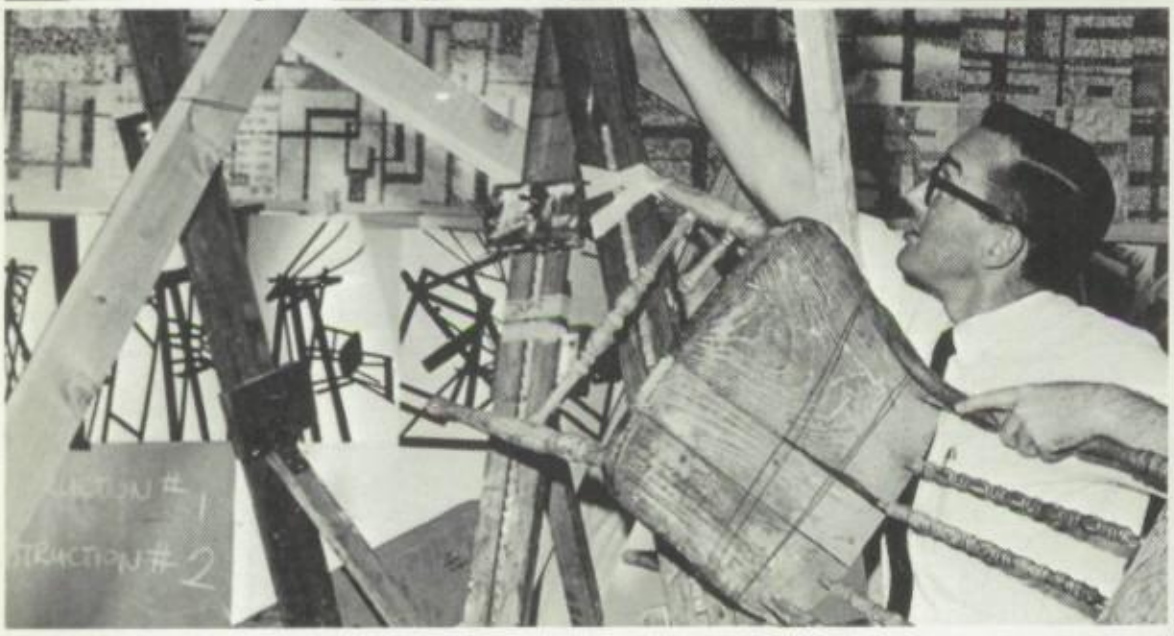
faculty in action

various members of the faculty took time out from teaching, and while wandering around, came to some astonishing conclusions:

it really doesn't hurt to have your picture taken . . . it isn't easy to climb a wooden construction with a chair in one hand . . . and . . . camarillo high needs cows?



"no traveller approaches a foreign land empty-minded or totally open-minded. he brings with him a mental image . . . a set of preconceptions" from the ancient walled city of york in northern england which the romans first occupied in a.d. 71 to camarillo, southern california, celebrating its first birthday in september 1965, naturally leaves an exchange teacher such as myself with a tremendous number of memorable impressions.

it is quite amazing to think that a year ago i nearly elected to accept a teaching post at the kikuyu high school nairobi, kenya but for some wit, who commented, "the children you don't like, you can always eat." i found this a little frightening at the time, as it coincided with the congo disturbances . . . and an untimely bout with indigestion.

there are so many impressions but little space, yet i feel certain experiences will remain in years to come when i sit over a brightly burning coal fire, cursing the unpredictable british climate and longing for some southern california sunshine.

undoubtedly the highlight was the entry into new york harbor as the queen elizabeth bathed in sunshine turns into the slow flowing hudson river. the rigid confinement to first, cabin and tourist class quarters breaks down as the statue of liberty comes into sight, framed by the huge new verrazano suspension bridge. from new york across country in days of seemingly endless travel . . . a growing admiration for those early settlers of the western states of america and a realization that travel brings a wealth of unforgettable experiences and knowledge.

the too numerous to recall instances of the unstinted generosity of people in all walks of life with whom i came in contact was overwhelming. true cordiality and genuine interest know no barriers . . . though i must confess, well-meaning californians still cannot make yorkshire pudding!

finally the image of america and its people that i will take back will be different from the pre-conceived notions with which i entered this country.

to all faculty, students, and citizens of camarillo a very big and sincere thank you, and should you ever get as far as york in nothern england ask any policeman and they'll tell you where i live!

good luck to adolfo camarillo high school in the future.

long hair reigns in england, but it was either cut or quit for the male population of camarillo high. after a summer of barber shop abandonment a few of the wildlife enthusiasts were forced to find a good barber.

slave day, held as soon after school opens in september as possible, has been found to be a unique way of helping the freshmen become oriented.

a christmas tea was sponsored by the home economics classes.

a few trips were taken here and there, most of them by the band. lloyd thaxton's rating was also known to go up when he hosted camarillo in january.

the car bash in november wasn't exactly a smashing success, but it gave some members of the "stronger" sex a chance to rid themselves of their pent-up emotions.

harlem clowns

a record-breaking crowd flowed into the gym to witness the first appearance of the nationally-known harlem clowns on the scorpion court. our noteworthy and undefeated faculty challenged the clowns to a thrilling basketball game, both the audience and the players took part in the enjoyment of the evening. some of the highlights of the "game" were pee-wee hironaka, a baseball game (played on the court), and purse snatching. the event turned out to be a very profitable endeavor for the achs "lettermen."

the week prior to homecoming game was marked by the frenzied activities of students making last minute preparations in an effort to finish class floats or to get the last football practice in before the "big game." all week long kids crowded the halls wearing crazy hats and clashing clothes while yelling "beat san marcos" and licking suckers.

one of the big events of the week was the powder-puff football game. because of "touch only" rules, the participants sported only minor cuts and abrasions, black eyes, and fat lips to the homecoming dance.

the skies were threatening a repeat performance of rain as the scorpions took the field against the royals of san marcos. under gray, forbidding thunderheads, the two teams battled to a seven-to-seven tie as the gun sounded, ending the half. the end of the half signaled a start to the homecoming festivities for 1965. the floats, many of which had hastily been finished the night before, were preceded by the scorpion band and drill team and, together, they circled the field. in the enclave they formed came the homecoming queen and her court, escorted by the presidents of the a.s.b. and the classes. senior beauty, carolyn zaich was crowned and presented with a dozen long-stemmed american roses, as were the princesses, concluding the halftime ceremonies. the crowning glory of the day was added as the pigskin pushers went on to outmaneuver the royals, 14-7.

that night, as darkness enshrouded the campus, the gymnasium cast off its common features and was transformed into a lair of deep-sea beauty that rivaled any of the treasures of neptune's watery kingdom. those who attended were soon no longer the earthly mortals that had watched the football game that afternoon; rather, for a brief instant of time they became beings of the sea, gliding serenely through the watery world of the homecoming dance 1965.

third annual leadership banquet leaders from achs and the neigboring city of camarillo converged on the school cafeteria on november 17 to discuss the topic "integrity in organization." civic and student leaders became acquainted during a dinner of roast beef and mashed potatoes, mr. a. a. milligan, president of the bank of a. levy, discussed "serving with integrity" in his address. participants separated into discussion groups to discuss the applications of the elusive abstract, integrity. reaching no concrete conclusions, but enjoying the search, the assemblage once again convened in the cafeteria, and finally adjourned.

the restless crowd poured into the gym and, like ants spreading over a picnic tablecloth, filled it to capacity. the 1965 christmas assembly was under way. men were dying in viet nam. in africa, in latin america, masses were throwing off their chains in bloody rebellion, but we are noted for our ability to casually shrug off our troubles for a brief moment of forgetfulness, and so it was at the christmas assembly. the madrigal and a cappella choirs, the chs orchestra, and finally the students themselves joined in a musical offering to the person whose birth christmas celebrates. gifts were presented to koko, our foreign exchange student, and the school was presented with a trophy for its outstanding performance in the ventura county fair.

each year since the american field service has brought a foreign exchange student to achs, it has sponsored the annual variety show as a means of raising funds for such an undertaking. mr. embry, producer of the show since its start, again succeeded in bringing together a colorful collection of competence and callidity. from folk singers to tahitian dancing, the show grossed over $700 to sponsor a sixth student from foreign shores to our school next year.

the annual varsity-faculty basketball game was unusual this year in every respect. it had an international flavor this year with the addition of mr. eric walkington to the faculty roster. the faculty five pressed the varsity all the way, and the shooting of jack mcewen and greg ropes was offset by such impresarios of the court as returning wayne culberson, richard cecchini, and a new addition to the faculty forces this year, bill ihne who 'ignited' several times in the course of an unusually torrid contest.

ADOLFO CAMARILLO HIGH SCHOOL

asb president

1956 marked the year of the dedication of adolfo camarillo high school. since that time, achs has risen from meager beginnings to become one of the finest high schools in southern california. this year, the end of a decade, has been — of the four years i have spent "amidst the hallowed halls"—the most remarkable of the past ten. it must surely stand among the more select. save for a few minutes, our football team enjoyed a winning season. achs took active part in community affairs. student government expanded, exemplified by the icc. we again failed to catch the elusive spirit, but it slipped through our grasp less often than it has in many years.

i was proud to represent achs in 1965-66. thank you for the opportunity.

executive cabinet

the executive cabinet comprises the leaders of the most important campus organizations and the asb officers. they meet every day to discuss and decide upon the course of action our student body should take. mrs. covington, the advisor, must be thanked for the excellent job they are doing.

student council

the student council is composed of elected representatives from the social studies' classes, clubs, senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman class representatives as well as asb officers. its purpose is to discuss and debate the various issues concerning the activity of the student body as a whole. this year the student council, with the executive council acting in an advisory capacity, revised the constitution and its by-laws in order that both councils could work more smoothly and effectively.

lynnell robinson hears a point of order from steve young as the group meets to discuss an important issue. mrs. covington advises the council as vice-principal.

inter-club council officers

this is the first year camarillo has had an inter-club council. this council, under the sponsorship of mr. schmitt, coordinates the efforts of campus clubs and other student organizations of adolfo camarillo high school by meeting once a month with representatives of these organizations. although it is a new organization, it has proved in this first year to be a valuable asset to camarillo high. the council approves requests for fund-raising activities of the clubs and aids them in fund-raising projects. its purpose is to bind all clubs and school organizations into a close, cooperating unit.

founded as a volunteer ambulance corps in 1914, the american field service today serves by exchanging teen-age students. today with more than 2700 students from 56 countries, the afs is a world-wide organization. it has been responsible for bringing five students to camarillo from such widespread countries as thailand, germany, and italy. this year aleta fairless is head of a club whose purpose, to gain a better understanding of the countries and the people of the world and to assist in bringing foreign exchange students to achs, is well on its way to being realized.

koko tsuchiya has come from the mysterious orient, land of the cherry blossom, bringing with her the strange customs of a foreign land. she was taken aback with the mysterious culture of achs at first, but has since become accustomed to our strange customs. she is a member of student government as well as the american field service, and has given the community and the school a better understanding of her native japan by giving talks and showing films. when she returns to japan perhaps she will be able to give her family and friends a better understanding of american life.

california scholarship federation california scholarship federation is the one club dedicated solely to the encouragement of academic excellence among our students. each semester approximately one hundred camarillo students are eligible for this honor group. special privileges accompany membership in this club, including semester corridor passes and a school-day field trip. this fall the club journeyed to exposition park to see the museum of natural sciences, and then to see an afternoon matinee of "the agony and the ecstasy."

this year a new club made its debut on campus. the organization, which calls itself the electronic manufacturing explorers' post 2223, operates out of the 3-m facility in camarillo. with brian lopert as president, the club investigates the many faces of electronic manufacturing, a field which mirrors the growing technology of a modern nation, and which promises many exciting investigations. the club is co-sponsored by the school and the minnesota mining and manufacturing company. the faculty advisor is mr. rutherford.

the explorers officers are (standing) treasurer bill brewer, president brian lopert, vice-president bob lien, (sitting) sergeant-at-arms cletis wiens, secretary jim glazar.

the key club is a service organization of school leaders devoted to the improvement of the school and the community as well as the development of its members.

among the key club's projects are direction of traffic for school and public functions, roadside clean-ups, and clothing drives. though the club, advised by mr. ron yung, is not a money-making organization primarily, it does have such projects: collecting bottles, selling light bulbs, and printing and selling football programs. the proceeds from these projects result in the sandy ninninger award scholarship to an outstanding graduating senior.

the key club sponsored its third annual leadership banquet. school and community leaders discussed the topic "serve with integrity". the keynote address was given by mr. a. a. milligan, president of the local bank of a. levy.

officers are president gary liddle, vice-president tom foster, secretary dave grant, treasurer dave page. key clubbers painted bulletin boards for campus beautification and presented mr. milligan.

the girls' league is organized to promote self-government among the girls, to cultivate friendship, and to encourage activities pertaining to the welfare of the school.

all girls enrolled in adolfo camarillo high school are members of the girls' league, may serve on committees, and participate in all the activities.

the main activities of girls' league are the backwards dance and the mother-daughter tea. each quarter a "girl of the quarter" is selected. this honor is awarded on the basis of personality, character, scholarship, and citizenship.

the future business leaders of america, fbla, strive to stimulate and encourage human interest and participation in the business world.

as a service the fbla has been active in forming entertaining programs for the camarillo state hospital patients.

a member of this progressive club also learns to develop his leadership qualities and to accept responsibility in the active field of business.

the future medical leaders of america are striving to fill ever-increasing gaps in a vital profession, medicine. under the guidance of mrs. sizer, the group delves into the mysteries of the medicinal arts.

its purpose is to interest students in health careers, to explore the opportunities in the various fields, and to interest students in personal, family, and community health.

pictured below are the fmla officers historian nancy hollub, treasurer bridgit kerns, secretary sharon ratliff, vice-president norene may, and president bonnie hamerslagh.

on those days when the wind is in a vindicative mood, achs is reminded that we have a particularly active organization of future farmers. this organization has brought honor after honor to cam-hi in the years since it was founded, and this year ed pilgrim is head farmer, and with his fellow farmers, demonstrate fascinating fields of farming to follow.

future homemakers of america, fha, is one of the older and more active clubs on campus. this organization, with the combined effort and common interests of its members, has successfully completed several charitable activities.

mary fox and linda jelton, both spirited members of the club, were selected to attend the state meeting at asilomar along with advisor mrs. mayer.

the fta, future teachers of america, is designed to benefit the student interested in careers in the teaching profession. it provides a scholarship of one hundred dollars to a member in good standing every year. advisor is mr. nelson.

with brushes, pallets, used paint tubes, construction paper, scissors, rulers, crayons, spray cans, with plaster, paper and pencils, and above all else, with originality and wit, the art club, under the able guidance of mr. wallace designed, painted, drew, cut, measured, mixed, sprayed its way through the year with many moments of merriment and mirth.

the pen and compass club of chs promotes an interest in drafting to many students, although they might not have had the opportunity to enroll in a mechanical drawing class. mr. tomlinson is the able advisor.

pen and compass officers:

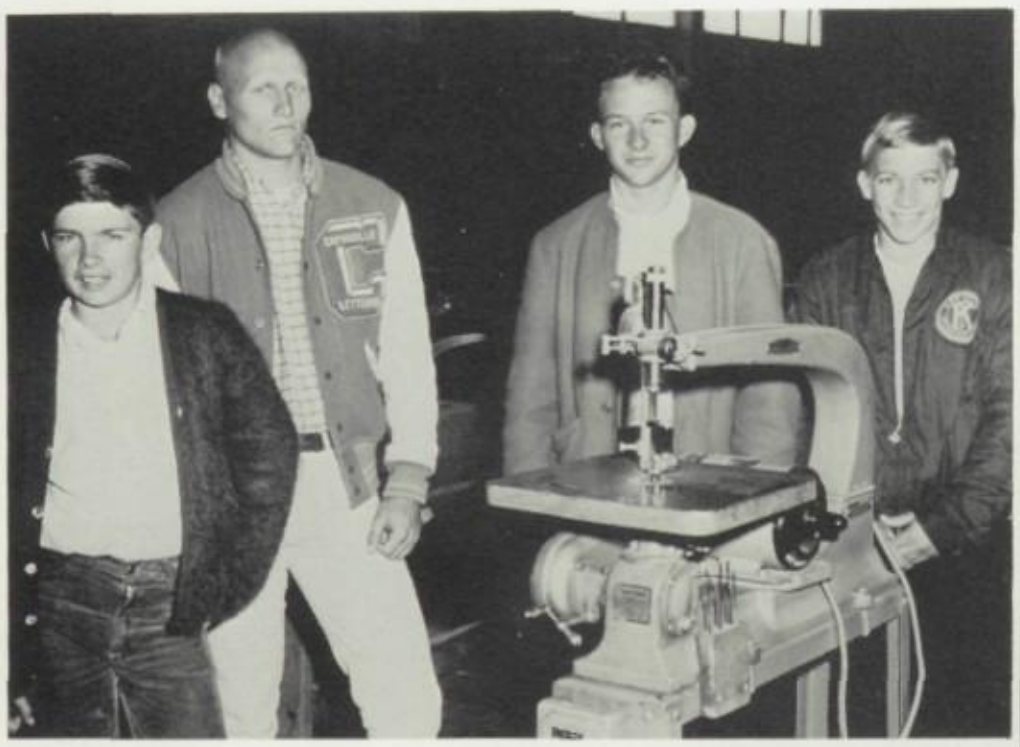
the woodcrafters of adolfo camarillo high school are led in their activities by dave bunker, chief woodcrafter. a small club, the woodcrafters make up for this deficiency in the excellence of their work. with such diversified projects as bookcases and surfboard skegs, as bowls and skateboards, these boys are truly experts in the crafting of wood.



woodcrafter officers are sergeant-at-arms danny wade, president david bunker, vice-president bruce wallace, secretary-treasurer randy letkeman. mr. sherill is their advisor.

the radio club holds special interest for boys interested in electronics and vocational guidance. in past years this club, under the leadership of mr. freeland, has completed many projects which have benefited the school, such as installing a public address system in the lunch area, providing music at noon time, and trying to introduce a ham radio station at achs. it is continuing with similar projects and is making much progress in the field of electronics.

the science club this year was an especially active organization; several times the club was forced to hasten to safer surroundings to make way for such inconvenient happenings as exploding test tubes, penetrating sulphuric acid, and dead pigs. bob hart, head egghead, was often seen leading his followers to new heights for science.

pictured below are the officers of the science club this year president robert hart, vice-president richard stansbury, secretary dona melville, and treasurer john mccloud. they are guided by the conscientious efforts of their advisor, mr. mccullough.

a cappella, under the leadership of vincent raba, is a singing group which annually entertains the student body of achs in the christmas assembly. several of the members have exhibited fine singing ability and an individual flair for music. a cappella lends a cultural air to the atmosphere of the chs campus.

madrigal, a select group of achs vocalists under the direction of mr. raba, performs for various school and community activities. its primary interests are in early renaissance and romantic motets and chansons of the french period. success and achievement have been reached in honors and enrichment it has given the school this year.

advanced girls' glee is open to all girls interested in developing their vocal talents and willing to put forth an effort. the club this year achieved its purpose of performing at school functions, concerts, and community activities by singing at the achs open house, the christmas assembly, camarillo state hospital, and oxnard air force base.

pictured below are the advanced girls' glee officers treasurer sharon ratliff, secretary julie tubbs, president mary ann harrison, vice-president carol pemberton, historian barbara braun.

first prizes and first places again were garnered by the achs band. it received first prize in the city of camarillo's "ranchero days" parade as well as in the riverside "500" parade. the band has been instrumental in promoting school spirit by performing at all "home game" half-time activities and home basketball games.

the high-stepping, precision achs drill team, is a group that performs as an auxiliary unit with the band. this year, with new costumes in a spanish theme, the drill team was an eye-catching addition to the band as well as an outstanding group in its own right. advising the group is miss jordan, who spends many hours aiding the girls in projects and traveling with them.

the pep club, under the direction of tina walther, this year performed such spirit-inclined feats as a card section exhibition at football games (the only one of its kind in the channel league). the girls were present at all major sports events, and their presence added to the color of the games.

athletically inclined girls find fellowship and an opportunity to compete against other girls in the school, and those in other schools in the girls' athletic association. lorraine regalado was given the privilege of leading this well-coordinated group of young women to new heights in physical perfection.

pictured below are the gaa officers treasurer fran burton, vice-president maydeen lavelo, president lorraine regalado, and secretary patsy lopez. miss aslakson is in charge of the group.

an exclusive letterman's club, block "c" gives prestige and recognition to varsity athletes who are members. block "c" is a social and service organization which promotes school spirit. coach hironaka advises the group.

block "c" is the richest club on campus and not without reason. besides selling concessions at all basketball games, the club brought the harlem clowns to our gym to delight and amaze 2000 spectators!

to a real fine student and athlete. may I wish you very best of success - to a bigger and better block "i" next year - coach Hironaka this year the block "c" became the wealthiest organization at achs by sponsoring such activities as the harlem clown-faculty basketball game, an event in which a good many people were turned away for lack of accommodations in the gym. besides receiving profits from half-time sales of refreshments, and other money-making drives, the club managed to find time to participate in a few community and campus welfare programs. this year the club was not merely a collection of brawn, for two of their members were national merit scholarship finalists.

excitement! thrills! stimulation! these are but a few of the words used to describe the matches of that new group on campus, the chess-clubbers. eagerly they move their pieces around the board in deft thrusts and parries of kings, queens, knights, and pawns. howard hogan is head chess-clubber and is always willing to give an inquiring novice advice on the intricacies of the game that has entertained royalty for centuries.

the "stinger", the school newspaper, informs the students of various activities and organizations of camarillo high school. it also gives the students an opportunity to express their views to the rest of the student body. mr. forrest is the capable advisor.

hi there, students! we're coming to you recorded in living black and white. our head producer is linda sullivan, with other greats as lynnell robinson, cheryl mcdonald, bette poppa, and a supporting cast of thousands (?). these thousands, ten or six, are pictured on these pages.

el alacran is a record in pictures and story of school life at adolfo camarillo high school for the nine months from september '65 to june '66. we have captured for posterity events which we feel are representative of a really big year.

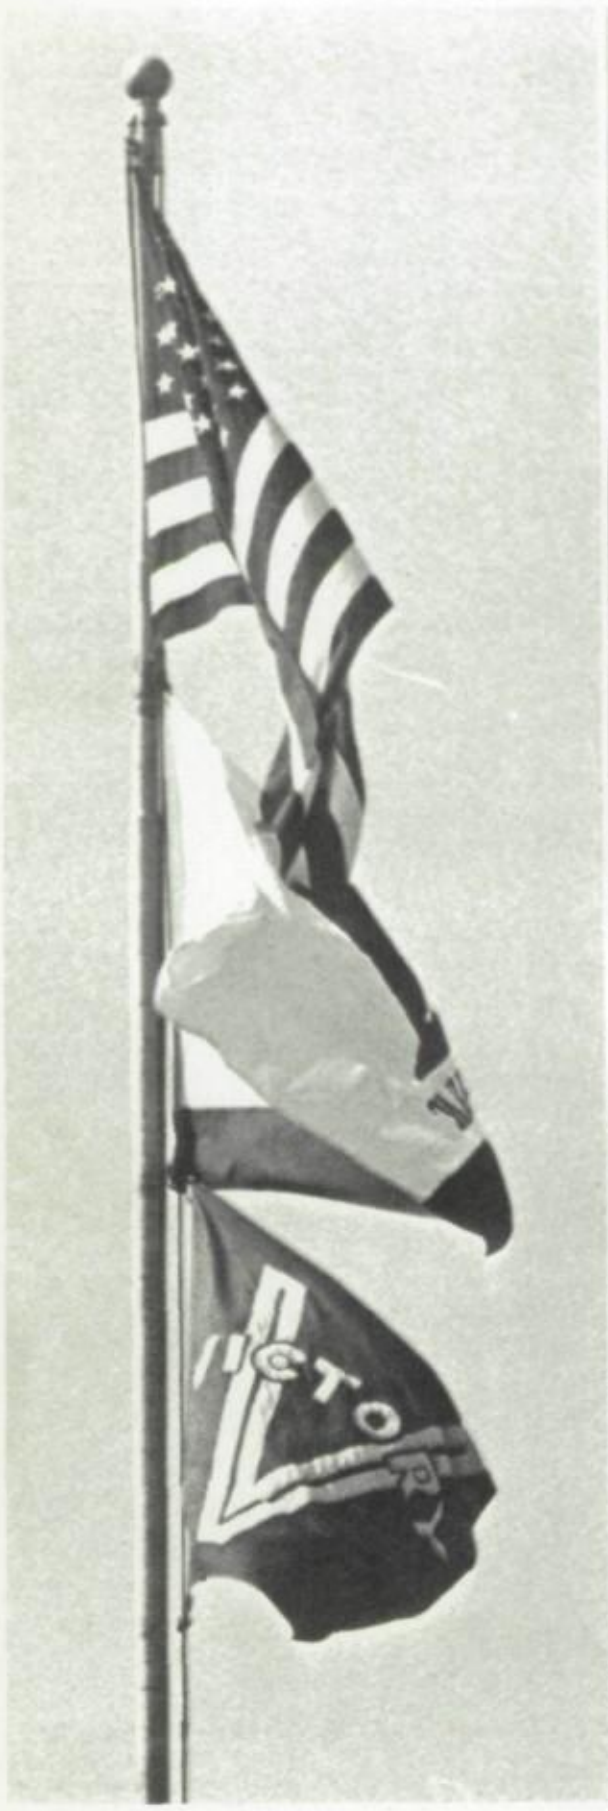
spirit at camarillo this year was at an all time high, especially during our fantastic football season, when our unique victory flag was down only twice. time and time again the mighty scorpions were victorious, thriving on the spirit of the large crowds that followed them loyally. scorps on the basketball floor chalked up points, and even though the crowds were smaller, it was a really good season. next year's rooters will have a hard time living up to the spirit of '66.



left: a common and rewarding sight this year, the victory flag flew almost continuously.

the cheerleaders of '65-'66 showed chs what a truly good, organized cheering squad can do. although the male faction of the camarillo student body failed to present any of its members at the try outs, the cheerleaders and scorpy managed to lead both sexes in the yelling of their spirited cheers. their enthusiasm was mirrored in the camarillo crowd, and led the scorpions on to victory.

for the second time chs elected freshmen cheerleaders to boost its freshmen teams on to victory. both the freshmen and the sophomore squads were well-coordinated and good representatives of their respective classes.

this year's songleaders were undoubtedly one of the best groups that chs has ever had. instead of the normal five, the songleaders increased their number by one this year, having six for more versatility in their formations and routines.

to the best of their ability the songleaders attempted to raise the spirit of the camarillo fans and encourage the scorpions on to victory.

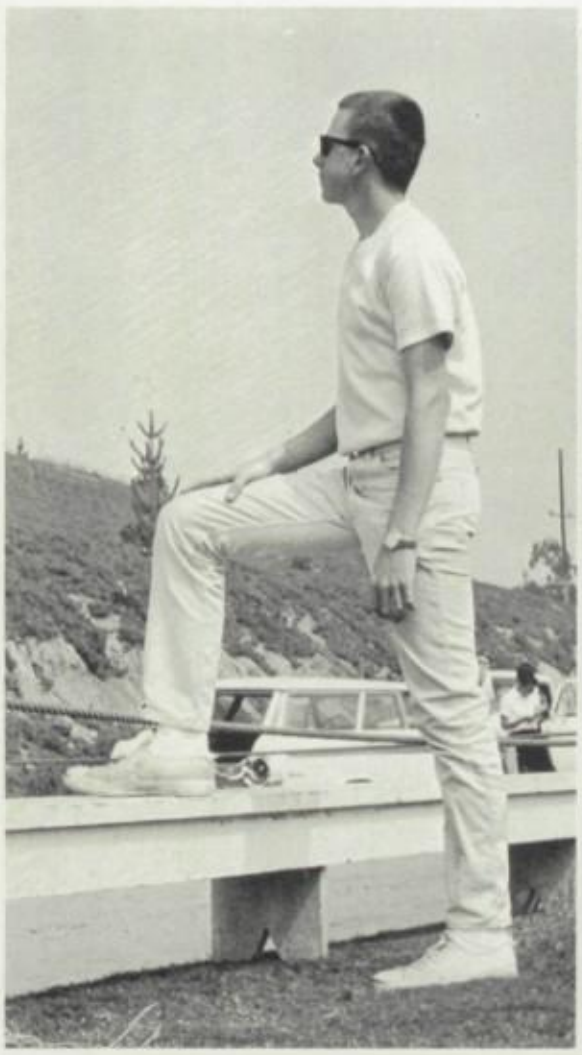
the 1965 camarillo football varsity was "the greatest uncrowned channel league champions."



the scorpion varsity football team was 7-2 this year beating arroyo grande, thousand oaks, buena, simi, ventura, san marcos, and hueneme, while losing to the ever tough santa barbara and oxnard. the fighting blue and silver were undefeated on their home field where probably the most thrilling game occurred. it was homecoming '65, played against the san marcos royals, which camarillo won 14-7 before 3,000 cheering fans.

camarillo high was fortunate to place five men on the first team all channel league, and seven men on the honorable mention squad. those making the first team were randy rosser, bob crawford, russ merriman, jim sevier, and larry de martini.

contributing enormously to the success of this year's team were the coaches mr. starnes, backfield coach; mr. hironaka, end coach; mr. pena, line coach; and head coach, mr. jack lercari.

although their record was not too good, this hard fighting team came on strong and won their last game. the team and the school owe much to their fine sophomore football coaches mr. bill o'connor and mr. jack carson for their dedicated coaching.

coach ova farrow was blessed this past cross-country season with a group of fine runners. the team competed in numerous meets and had a very successful season. the biggest surprise this season was ken gerry, a freshman, who clocked the best time of the season, a fabulous 10:37 at san marcos. gerry was voted the most outstanding distance runner in both ventura and santa barbara counties. bob lien also set a new record on our home track, a sensational 10:39. his fellow harriers awarded lien the most valuable cross-country award at the fall sports' banquet.

although this year's team did not fare very well, the entire squad never gave up and always played its best. some highlights of the season were channel league victories over hueneme and oxnard, a 108-47 victory over bosco tech, and a heartbreaking one point loss to san marcos royals, who were ranked thirteenth in the cif at the time. jack mcewen was selected for the all-channel league second team and gary braynard, greg ropes and ralph beattie received honorable mention.

the jv and freshman baseball teams were composed of many fine baseball players. the main reasons for having these teams are to permit more boys to participate in athletics and to prepare the younger boys for upcoming varsity seasons. the boys received valuable experience from participating and learned much from the enthusiastic and excellent coaches.

camarillo experienced a very successful season this year. baseball really came alive under the guidance of head coach mr. hironaka. there was tremendous spirit among the players and the crowds were much better than in the past. the secret of this fine team's success was not a super star that carried the team alone but rather a well-balanced, hustling group of players that wanted to win very much. this attitude and balance made 1966's varsity baseball team a standout in the tough channel league.

Dear Teddie,
You're really a good person and also the first people that I meeted.
Do a good job for Block "C" and don't let Hironaka push ya around. Good luck to a really wonderful guy who is omnipresent.

this year's scorpion golf team was one of the best in camarillo high school's history. using the las posas country club for their home course, they participated in numerous matches against other high school teams. our linksters, who were coached by mr. carson and captained by jim stowell, won the better part of their matches and were highly regarded by their opponents.

many boys each spring go out for camarillo's fine tennis team. this year's team was particularly fortunate to have two very capable and experienced coaches — mr. starnes and our exchange teacher from york, england, mr. walkington. although the team did not build a strong record, the players improved a great deal as the season progressed.

we freshmen have embarked on a journey through a strange new land. the first year has been an uphill trek for most of us, but the end of it does not mean the rest of the trip will be in the opposite direction. the clouds of the future hide even higher peaks—peaks which must be surmounted if we are to emerge successfully from high school. one fourth of the voyage has been completed, but we can still decide whether we wish to climb or fall.

one of the trials of being a freshman is riding the bus to and from school several times a week. although all complain, they really must admit that it is not that bad.

the freshman class distinguished itself this year by winning first place with their cleverly designed homecoming float and the election of pretty debbie cairns as freshman princess.

no longer freshmen, but not yet among the pseudo-gods of the upper classes, we sophomores live in a world of half-truths and uncertainties. perhaps it is this uncertainty that has made us a class of searchers . . . seeking questions to the answers we all seem to have. "with just enough learning to misquote," we must wait for the remaining years to polish our rough-hewn shapes.

homecoming preparations and work resulted in a spectacular parade hampered only slightly by threatening storms. pictured are the sophomore float and princess donna toyahara.

awards for achievement, scholarship, and leadership are an integral part of a graduating class. El alacran-1966 is proud to present those students who have received outstanding recognition in these fields.

southern california edison company semi-finalists: mike ryan, linda sullivan, and bob rust.

bank of america school finalists: sue kessler, allan rutherford, and margaret geller.

american field service's "americans abroad" semi-finalist: terri murphy Finalist-to Germany taking the senior panoramic picture is an annual event.

Theodie, I'm sure next year your picture will be on this page. You deserve it for more than I know the school will be in good hands. I'm an Officer I (with you as remember "Deutschland Uber Alles" Terry Murphy AFS. '67" D.S. Don't give up your germans

we, the class of '67, look back on almost three years of "blood, toil, tears, and sweat". we have trudged through test after test, traipesed through the junior play and the prom. but we cannot afford to utter sighs of relief quite yet, for the final year remains. and in that year we will "make or break" our efforts of the past three years. frosh, sophs, and now juniors we have been; seniorhood awaits us!

representations of life as a junior lives it: the junior class homecoming float, giving a royal a slow turn over a hot bed of burning colored napkins, and another product of homecoming, the attractive junior class princess, jill talley. naturally, the juniors hold their own honorable tables in the cafeteria sustained after three years of waiting only with the thought that next year that senior patio will be theirs.

we are the class of '66. we have taken over, and we have discovered that with authority comes responsibility, responsibility which has had to be hastily assumed. we have been tested; we will continue to be tested, but the first bridges have been crossed, and they are burning in the past.

to the coming classes, we leave a legacy—not only of accomplishment and of failure, but also of deeds—to be used as they will, with the hope that perhaps they will not make the same mistakes that we have, and with the knowledge that in all likelihood they will.

this year's senior class strived to make its last year the most memorable in its school career. tom foster, president, initiated and participated in many of the senior class activities, including the selling of "the argonauts" sweatshirts.

although the senior class homecoming float did not place, many seniors will always feel that their float projected more originality and ingenuity than the other winning floats.

then, there is the senior patio—the always popular senior refuge from the "peasants."

mr. and miss achs: wes chapin and sue hare camarillo seniors were always on the go, both in and out of school. extra-curricular activities were a common occurrence this year. the class of '66 was also known for its abundance of spirit. perhaps the seniors realized this was their last year at "good ol' achs," or maybe it was just their exuberant way of saying "good-by." It doesn't matter what the reason might have been, seniors—1966 lived, studied, played, and enjoyed a fantastic year.

i am a yearbook, a book of memories of a school year now ended. i am proud to be the tenth anniversary edition of el alacran for adolfo camarillo high school. i represent many long hours of hard work, tireless effort, and great worry. there is much involved in the setting up and planning of a book such as i . . . first there is the task of creating a plan for me, my theme, and my dedication. my rough draft design is followed by writing my copy, rescrambling my ideas and plans, and the endless scheduling of my pictures. but one and all, these problems were coped with, and overcome, and out of it all came the final result—the 1966 el alacran.

mr. jon nelson, representative for inter-collegiate press, assisted immensely in my publication. jim roy, class of '67, designed my cover about which i am very proud. camarillo portraits was always willing to lend a helping hand with my photographic problems.

as for mr. rod embry and mr. ron yung, our faithful faculty photographers, i don't believe i would exist if it had not been for their tireless efforts in arranging groups, taking, developing, and printing the many pictures for me.

i thank the following business firms for their contributions: for senior portraits, camarillo portraits, harmon-y house of photography, jonason studio, the studio, and west coast studio; and the daily news for the use of their negatives and sports pictures.

i express my gratitude to the adolfo camarillo high school administration and faculty for the many interruptions and inconveniences i have caused them because of my production schedule.

i am deeply grateful to my advisor, mr. ron yung, who devoted many hours to see that i would become a memorable anniversary edition for you, and to mr. perry heron for being my business manager, selling and presenting me to you for your pleasure and enjoyment.

above all, i am particularly appreciative to linda sullivan, my editor-in-chief, and her most capable staff for the very long hours, saturdays and sundays, (yes, even holidays) they tirelessly gave to produce me. they deserve great praise for their ideas, time, and boundless energy in overcoming the problems and inevitable obstacles in the production of any yearbook, especially me.

again, thank you all for changing what was once just an idea into a reality.

respectfully yours,
el alacran, 1966

editor's message

for better than the minting of a gold crowned king is the safe kept memory of a lovely thing.
sara teasdale

csf ratings, fog-shrouded football fields, cheering fans and lost championships, homecoming fantasies in an underwater paradise, 100 point basketball games, vacations, warm and sandy beaches, rainy weekends, sunny school days, santa ana winds on bermuda days, the magical month of the junior-senior prom, senioritis, the birds in concert, speakers on viet nam, ditch day, the harlem clowns, "meet your match" computer dance, the ivy chain, graduation ceremonies, grad night at disneyland, long and wonderful friendships, the charming young ambassador from japan, special teachers, the alma mater, and adolfo camarillo high school in its tenth year . . . to these cherished moments we proudly dedicate this book. it was a very good year.

linda sullivan,
editor-in-chief

Theodie,
So a real cool guy. It's been real cool having you in English this year. Have fun during the summer and keep up the good grades next year.
Maggie '67

Theodie,
Well, it seems like we go through this every year. You always sit over there and I always sit over here. I don't regret it and, in fact, I hope it's the same way next year + no doubt it will be!
Well best of luck and...
